REFERENDUMS FOR TEST ON LIQUOR

Last Resort to Register Defeat of Prohibition Amendment

LABOR IN 15 STATES

Seek to Nullify The Action of the Legislatures in Giving Assent to National Dry Era.

A single chance remains for the defeat of constitutional prohibition in the United States, and, while that chance is remote, it is, nevertheless, being carefully weighed, not only by the liquor interests of the country, but by the prohibitionists themselves.

If the action of the State Legislatures which ratified the eighteenth, or prohibition, amendment to the Constitution can be reversed by means of popular referendums, the prohibition mandate which is now scehuled to go into effect on January 16 will be nullified. The nation will return forthwith to a liquor basis except to such an extent as State laws apply.

In the fight against nation wide prohibition referendum proceedings already have been invoked in fifteen different States, five more than are needed to negativs the action of their respective Legislatures. The States are Michigan, Ohio, Missouri, Arkansas, New Mexico, Colorado, Nevada, Maine, Oklahoma, Oregon, Utah and Idaho. The petitions have been thrown out in three of these States—that is, in Oregon, Utah and Idaho—and so far no appeals have been taken from the courts in these States to the United States Supreme Court.

The necessary petitions have already been filed in seven of the referendum States, and in the others they are being cirulated for the proper officials. In all such States quired number of names has been scured they will be presented to the propr officials. In all such States it is provided that petitions for referendums shall be signed by a fixed percentage of the voters, usually 5 or 6 per cent. After the filing, general or special elections must be held at which the proposition contained in the referendum must be voted on.

CITY AUTO LICENSE TAXES OVERDUE

500 Owners of Machines Have Paid City Tax Thus Far

TAX IS $3.50 A YEAR

Licenses Are Paid to Mayor Fisher —Estimated 1000 Machines In City —Delinquents to be Arraigned.

Approximately 500 city licenses have been issued thus far by Mayor Fisher for automobiles. The issuing of a city license tag for automobiles in Alexandria in an innovation. However, Alexandria is about the last city in the state of Virginia to put on a city automobile license. The cost of each license, regardless of the horsepower of the machine, is $3.50 a year.

It is estimated that there are about 1,000 automobiles in Alexandria. Therefore, only about one half of the owners thus far have taken out licenses. The new license became operative June 1.

A reasonable length of time will be given by the authorities before arrests are made for failure to take out a license. However, it is the purpose of the authorities to begin a crusade against all persons having machines who have failed to take out a license. They will be halted into the police court and a fine imposed in accordance with he provisions of the law.

CRIME WAVE STILL IN EVIDENCE

Hold-ups and Robberies Continue in Washington

The crime wave at the Nation's Capital is still a terror to the inhabitants. The police department seems powerless to check it. Here is a sample of the reports that are daily published in the Washington newspapers:

"Frederick M. Meyer 1614 New Jersey avenue was held up by two armed negroes on R street between Sixth and Seventh streets about 1.15 o'clock yesterday morning and robbed of $115. Meyer a machinist, was on his way home when he was halted by the men and his cash demanded. The highwaymen did not harm him."

That hold-up occurred in a sectoin of the city in which large numbers of negroes live. Evidently Meyer offered no resistance or he would have been severely dealt with. Being an easy mark they did not shoot him or beat his face to pieces, They usually do if the victim protests against parting with his cash or watch and chain

In broad daylight thieves here make a practice of waylaying children who are sent to stores by their mothers to make purchases. That is a common occurrence according to the daily reports to police stations.

WINS TWO GAMES

Cardinals Defeat War Department and St. Dominics Teams

The Cardinals visited Washington Saturday evening, and played the War Department team on the White Lot. After an exciting and well played game, the Cardinals won by a 4 to 3 score, Cardinals, battery Alexander and Schaffer.

The Naval Hospital team was signed to play here Sunday, but cancelled the game on account of orders received from their superiors, and Manager McDonald, substituted the St. Dominocs' nine of Washington. Cardinals won by a 10 to 6 score. Cardinals battery Quayle and Schaffer. Umpire Earl Cornell.

In the first inning, when Douglas Merchant, who played first base for the Cardinals, went to bat, he was presented with a handsome heavy solid gold Engineer Corps ring, he having served in that arm of Uncle Sam's service in France. The presentation was made by Corporal John Curtin, also a comrade in the 39th United States Engineers, A. E. France, on behalf of the friends of the popular first sacker.

Sunday, August 10, the Cardinals will play the Rex Athletic Club team in the Union League Park, 15th and H streets, northeast, Washington.

The Clarendons' challenged the Cardinals, through a Washington paper, for a series of games for the championship of Northern Virginia, and the home team men answered them "like a flash," but, up to date the Clarendon challengers have failed to "come back."

"The Cardinals are ready."

WENDENBURG'S DEFENSE

Prohibition Question to Play Important Part in oming Election in Richmond.

StateSenator L. O. Wendenburg at the meeting in South Richmond one night last week in his speech to the voters of that section made this statement:

"Everybody in Richmond knows my position on the question of prohibition. The records will show that I was one of three who voted against an amendment to the bill that prohibited the wife of a farmer making blackberry wine for her own use. There were other features of the measure that did not meet with my approval. But when the legislature passed the bill and it became a law it was up to me as it was to every good citizen to see that the law is observed, and to do everything in my power to assist in its enforcement.

"My position in the matter of the Woodstock tragedy has been mistaken by some of my friends and has been distorted by my political enemies. I have been told that some of them will vote against me becausce I am counsel for officers of the law, who in protecting the interests of the state, in carrying out the law, were forced to shoot and kill two men caught in the act of breaking the law. These officers did exactly what any man would have done. They had arrested the bootleggers having caught them in the act, and in their effort to escape one of the men drew a revolver and fired at the officer, the bullet going through his overcoat, and was about to fire again, when the officer, in self-defense, shot back. One of the officers was struck over the head by one of the bootleggers. It was purely a case of self defense.

"If I had not gone to the defense of these men, I would have been a political coward, even though I felt that my position might have been misunderstood. When any citizen opposes any law, he is undermining the government. Every law should be upheld and enforced by every good citizen.

"When the legislature frames a law, it is the duty of all good, law-abiding citizens to see that it is observed."

REGATTA SATURDAY AT BALTIMORE

30 FROM HERE ATTEND

Baltimore Oarsmen Won Four of Six Events—Alexandria Crew Lost by Narrow Margin in Junior Doubles.

Baltimore oarsmen won four of the six events on the program of the Southern Rowing Association regatta at Ferry Bar Saturday afternoon. The Ariel and Arundel Boat clubs divided honors ,each taking two races, while the junior eight and the junior quarruple events were captured by the Virginia and Potomac Boat Clubs, respectively. The oarsmen furnished some of the prettiest racing ever seen in local waters.

About thirty Alexandrians atended including the participating crews of the Old Dominion Boat Club. The local club feels proud of the showing they made despite the fact that they did not win.

With the exception of a slight headwind that retarded progress at times the day was a perfect one, and while no records were lowered, each of the races, with the exception of the first brought plenty of thrills to the crowd that lined the course and watched from the surrounding boat clubs.

Crews from the Ariels and Arundels captured the junior single (uncontested) events ,the junior doubles, the senior doubles, and the junior fouroared gig race, the Ariels winning the first pair and the Arundels the others.

The rowing did not open in an auspicious manner, the junior single scull developing into a one-man affair. The local club made the only entries, and with James McGruter in the Ariel boat and Charles Haslup in the Arundel craft, the shells got away cleanly at the start. During the first quarter mile Haslup lead by about a length and a half, but his footrest broke, the shock throwing him into the water. McGruter then leisurely finished the course and won an easy victory.

The junior eight-oared was perhaps the most talked about event of the afternoon. The crew of the Arundels had been generally picked to wip because little was known of the Virginia club's material and their peculiar choppy stroke in the try-outs had not made a favorable impression. Coach Edward J. Brown Harvard's assistant rowing mentor, who has been drilling the Richmond boys, when seen before the race, declined to comment on his crew's chances and said that his eight was only a fair one.

It was a very fair one indeed. The Arundel boat led until the Hanover street bridge was reached, but from that point seemed to lack the necessary punch. The men had exhausted their wind at the beginning and in the last half-mile the Virginia crew, with strong, even stroke, gradually drew away and crossed the line a good length in advance.

In the Junior doubles the Arundel entry was withdrawn at the last moment and the race was between the Ariel and Old Dominion Clubs. The boats kept together until near the finish, when the boys from Alexandria began splashing their stroke and were unable to finish the last two or three hundred yards. the Ariel boat sliding across the line a graceful manner, The Southerners showed lots of grit, but were plainly not in condition to stand a mile.

The junior-oared gig race was run off next and the youngsters of the Arundels brought home a well-earned victory. They showed their class throughout the race and led the entire distance ,finishing about one and one-half lengths before the Virginia Boat Club's crew. Second place was hotly contested, the Ariel boys holding this position until the last 100 yards of water, when the Southerners by a beautiful spurt closed the gap and were second by a scant half boat.

Not for many a long day will those near the finish line forget the last moments of the junior quarduple scull debate. The Potomac, Old Dominion and Arundel were in this and Baltimore rooters for the Red and White apparently saw nothing in it but the Arundel oars. The local crew led by a scant margin all the way, with the Potomac men hanging on and not losing a ninch. In the last heartbreaking moments those near the end still thought the Arundel boat crossed the line a winner, but the judges ruled otherwise and the victory went to the lads from Washington.

TWO NEGROES DROWNED

Harrisonburg, Va., July 28.—Admiral Dewey Walker and Philip Walker, negro cousins, were drowned Sunday night in attempting to cross Meadow Run at Cupps Eord, about ten miles east of Staunton, between Laurel Hill and New Hope, in a buggy drawn by one horse. The animal met a similar fate.

FROM ATLANTIC TO THE PACIFIC

Six Dreadnoughts Make Successful Trip Through Canal

MEN ON SHORE LEAVE

Average Time of Each Ship From Colon to Balboa is Ten Hours—Gala day in Panama.

The Pacific Fleet, under command of Admiral Rodman, Saturday night was floating in Pacific waters.

Six dreadnoughts, led by the flagship New Mexico, successfully negotiated the Panama Canal—the largest ships that ever have passed through this waterway. The average time of passage for each warship from Colon to Balbot was ten hours, eliminating anchorage time in Gatun Lake.

Saturday afternoon Admiral Rodman visited President Porras, of Panama, who congratulated the naval officer on his success in negotiating the Canal. Approximately 3,600 sailors were given shore leave at Panama and the city at night celebrated the arrival of the fleet, which left yesterday for San Diego.

Governor Harding and Rear-Admiral Marbury Johnston, of the Panama Naval Division, came aboard as the flagship was being locked down thirty feet to the level of Mira Flores Lake. The operation of locking down the dreadnoughts proceeded with the same speed and precision as the locking up at Gatun.

As the New Mexico eased her way into the Mira Flores Lake, a great crowd collected on the concrete locks cheered and a salute of seventeen guns was fired on the flagship in honor of Governor Harding.

"It was no more trouble than putting through the Canal a fleet of Great Lakes torpedoboats," said Admiral Rodman, who was visited by Rear-Admiral William L. Shoemaker of the battleship Rhode Island and other naval officers, when the dreadnoughts anchored in Panama Bay.

MAY EXTEND SERVICE

Alexandria County Lighting Co., May Give Power to Fairfax

Fairfax, Va., July 28.—It is believed that the long-hoped for extension of the Alexandria Lighting Company's power from Falls Church to Vienna and to to Fairfax will be realized. Thomas R. Keith and Wilson Farr recently interviewed the officials of the company and received a promise to supply power to Fairfax if the citizens of the county will build the line. The cost of erecting poles and stringing wires from Falls Church to Fairfax will be about $30,000. It is proposed to form a stock company, which will buy power from Alexandria and sell it to consumers. A meeting was held in Vienna Wednesday night and another will be held in Fairfax shortly. The promoters are much encouraged over the prospet of success.

URGES ARREST OF BANDITS

Acting under special instructions from President Carranza, the Mexican military authorities at Tampico are making unusual efforts to capture the bandits who on July 6 held up a boat from the United States steamship Cheyenne, in the Temesi river and robbed the crew. This information was contained in a radio message to the Navy Department yesterday from Commander E. P. Finney, senior American naval officer at Tampico.

most back to Adam's time. This beer was called hega.

"Herodotus in 450 B. C., ascribed the invention of beer to the goddess Iris, wife of Osiris, known as God of the Dead and Gor of Hades, the mythological inventor of wine.

"The Egyptians taught the Greeks how to make beer. The ancient Chinese knew how, too. The Romans much improved methods of brewing. They carried beer brewing education to England. Roman historians say Britons in the South of England brewed ale from barley and malt before the Roman invasion. The Saxons, among whom ale had long been a common drink, learned from the Britons what the Romans had taught them in brewing.

"Pliny mentions beer in use in Spain about the time the Christian era opened. It was called ceria and seria. France had it under the name of cerevisa.

"Says Piny: The people of Spain brew this liquid so well that it will keep good a long time. So exquisite is the cunning of mankind in gratifying their vicious appetites that they have thus invented a method to make water itself produce intoxication.

"Kaffir races of South Africa centuries ago began making a kind of beer from millet. Flanders had beer at the time of the birth of Christ."

NOTHING NEW UNDER THE SUN

The whole world will go in a state of nature as soon as it is properly "educated" by the Kosmanites, a religious cult, founded by D. R. Newberry, of Rochester, N. Y., fifteen years ago, according to the British branch of the society.

A newspaper has revealed that the Plymouth colony of Kosmanite already was allowing boys and girls up to 15 years of age to run nude.

The Kosmanites believe in going to "church" in the garb in which human beings entered the world.

A prominent member of the organization says:

"The world is not ready yet for our suggestion. But our idea is right and our cause is good. To display the natural beauty of the human body is all right. It gives the sun a chance to work beneficially on the body, too. Adoption of our creed by the world will come sure as fate, and shame will disappear."

All this is as old as the North star. There were gymnosophitsts (naked philosophers) in the days of Alexander the Great (300 years B. C.) and a few centuries after the advent of Christianity a sect known as the "Adamites" made their appearance. Their theory was that human beings were intended to move about in puris naturalibus.

About a century ago a sect calling themselves "the naked truth" were discovered in the heart of London. The attendants at this so-called church appeared in the garb of Mother Eve. The place was raided by the police, when the members of the congregation refused to clothe themselves, but insisted on wending their way to the police court minus apparel. The presiding magistrate sent officers to the hall in which the gathering took place and had the clothing of the gang brought into court. He compelled the prisoners to clothe themselves and subsequently dismissed them with an admonition.

NOT YET!

The Rome, Ga., Tribune Herald says:

"It is time for France and Germany to bury the hatchet, wipe out the lod feud that had existed between these nations and burned with ever increasing intensity ever since the war of 1870. Alsace-Lorraine has been restored to France and the bone of contention is gone; now these two great nations should forever forget their ancient feud and live in harmony and friendship as neighbors should. This is of course, much to expect, considering the lang standing rivalry and hatred that has existed between France and Germany, but it is the only logical thing to do. It is the path through which most quickly France and Germany can rehabilitate their commerce, rebuild their industries and restore the destruction and devastation of war. Gentlemen, stop hating each other and go to work."

The Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore, commenting on the above, says:

"Of course, it is time for the man whose wife and daughter have been brutally outraged by some fiend to go to loving the unrepentant, unpunished brute! tI is time for a nation which for 2000 years has had to face the beast of hunism and its love of murder and of looting, which has constantly lived under the burden of this fearful danger, which saw its cities ruthlessly destroyed, its fields ravished, its women dishonored, and even its fruit trees cut down in sheer dviltry, to welcome with open arms of love the wholly unrepentant criminals guilty of these things!"

PERILS OF THE DANDELION

While the courts and Congress are wrestling with the question of how the word "intoxicating" is to be legally interpreted, word comes from New Jersey and Delaware that the careful housewives of those two prosperous States are preparing to make more than the usual family supply of dandelion wine. It is even hinted that this year the innocent beverage may contain a "kick" which was never there before and that it will prove to be a highly satisfactory substitute for the beer and light wine which a certain percentage of the population is said to crave with a craving such as has never been known before.

It is impossible to give anything like expert testimony upon this delicate question, without having a copy of the recipe from which the concotion is manufactured, but if we are to accept the reports which come from Canada, the lawmakers will have to take up the case of the beautiful and prolific dandelion after they have finished their investigations of the juice of the grape. We are told that if the Ontario Temperance Act is to be enforced properly the dandelion will have to be eliminated from the pastures and the backyards of that part of the Dominion. In one of the local police courts there were recently ten convictions for drunkenness and no less than eight of the offenders asserted that their intoxication was due to drinking wine made from dandelions. An analysis of some of the wine seized demonstrated that it was stronger than raisin whisk or even that of the genuine article.

All of this goes to show that when the reformers started is to abolish intoxicating liquors they entered upon an enterprise which is more far reaching than even the most determined realized. It was a humorist who said that we had not abolished the manufacture and use of intoxicating liquors, but had simply passed a law upon the subject. There is more truth than humor in the assertion and before we are through with the adventure we may discover, with the poet, that there are more things in Heaven and earth than were dreamt of in the philosophy of man.—Philadelphia Inquirer

DISCOVERY OF BEER

According to an old story, beer was discovered in Germany in this wise. An apprentice to a shoemaker determined to run away from his boss at the first opportunity. The opportunity was afforded when the shoemaker sent the youth for a bottle of some decoction in the shape of "small" beer, which was non-intoxicating. The boy had purchased the beer and was on his way back when he determined to take French leave. He dug a hole in the ground and buried the bottle and leaving neighborhood made his way to a port where he shipped on a vessel for a voyage. He did not return until he had passed his majority, when he determined to make a visit to his former employee. While the couple were conversying the young man told of burying the bottle of beer, and he suggested that he would repair to the spot and unearth it in order to see how it tasted after several years' internment. He recovered the bottle and opened it at the house of the shoemaker. From this incident was born the plan of placing beer in a vault and letting it ripen.

The Detroit Free Press, however, says beer was almost synchrononus with the appearance of man upon the earth. It says:

"Certainly exists that beer, like wine, was a popular drink in ancient days. Mythology says the Egyptians drank a beer made from malt or red barley as long ago as the Fourth Dynasty—3700 years before Christ.

Now Is a Good Time To Drive Out Catarrh

The Trouble Is in the Blood.

Summer catarrh, with its nauseous discharge, stuffed up glands, difficult breathing, and summer colds, is bad enough, but the worst of it is yet to come if you neglect to check the growth that is forming to attack you with ten-fold greater power during the winter.

That's why it is so important to treat catarrh with S. S. S. during warm weather.

It is now an established fact that catarrh is in the blood and that lotions and salves do not give relief. The experience of others has proven that S. S. S. strikes at the root of the trouble. Waste no time in this matter, for it is of the utmost importance. Write to our Medical Advisor about your case. Address Swift Specific Co., Dept. 53, Atlanta, Ga.

BIGGEST AIR ENGINE

English Concern Manufactures 1000-Horsepower Unit For Plane

Trade Commissioner H. G. Brock, representing the United States Government in London, has sent to the Department of Commerce a report on a new British monster aeroplane engine as follows:

"What is said to be the largest aeroplane engine in the world has recently been put under its first test at the Sunbeam works at Wolverhampton, England. It is reported to be of 1000 nominal horsepower, de-normal working speeds. It was not run at full power on the first trial and is now being dismantled for examination, after which it will be re-rected for a full-power test. The engine has 12 cylinders arranged "V" fashion.

CHILD'S BODY IN STACK

Six-Year-Old Chicago Girl Murdered By Watchman

Chicago, July 28.—Little Janet Wilkinson was found dead yesterday.

The tiny corpse-symbol of desecrated babyhood was recovered from a piece of old, unused smokestack in the basement of the building in which the Wilkinson family resided, after the subnormal man, Thomas Fitzgerald, had confessed the murder.

And so ended the search which began last Tuesday, and in which the entire Chicago police force and thousands of volunteers have taken part.

His nerve shattered and almost hysterical, Fitzgerald broke under the police grilling shortly before 9 o'clock and made his confession. He told how he stopped the child in the hallway. He offered her candy. When she hesitated he started to take her up in his arms and she began to scream. Quickly his fingers closed around the little throat and he stepped back into the room with his victim. Safe inside the door closed, he choked her to death. Down into the basement he took the body, pushed it down into the smokestack and covered it with coal.

It was about noon Tuesday when Janet, who was 6 years old, waved good-by two of her playmates after a morning's frolic at a public playground, and went skipping gayly toward her home, half a block away. She never reached there. When she did not come home her parents searched the playgrounds and the nighborhood, but to no avail. They then notified the police.

Fitzgerald, who lives in the same apartment building with the Wilkinsons, and who was night watchman at the Virginia Hotel, a few blocks away, was taken into custody early Wednesday morning when the child's father told the police that he once had annoyed the little girl. Other complaints of a similar nature previously had been made against Fitzgerald, it developed.

WOULDY TRY MICHAELIS

Berlin, July 28.—Vorwaerts demands that George Michaelis, former German chancellor, be tried for criminal negligence for his failure to conclude a nearly peace.

The newspaper claims that in view of the charges made by Mathias Erzberger, the Centrist leader, no other course was open to Germany.

BEGS FOR MAMA

Baby Daughter of Poison Victim Asks to go to Hospital

"They've taken mama to the hospital. She's sick. Please let me go and see her."

While 4 year old Dolly Sheppard was voicing this plaintive plea late last night, her mother, Mrs. Nellie Sheppard, 629 Second Street, northeast, Washington, lay dead on a cot at Casualty Hospital, a victim of self-administered poison.

Shortly after 5:30 o'clock, Robert Sheppard, a plumber, heard his wife cry out from the next room: "Robert, look what I have done!" He answered her summons and she fell unconscious into his arms, clasping in her hand an empty bottle.

Mrs. Sheppard was hurried to Casualty Hospital, where physicians worked over her in vain for nearly three hours. She died at 8:50 o'clock.

Mrs. William Sharp, who keeps the rooming house in which the tragedy occurred, said Mrs. Sheppard has a mother, sister and two brothers, all of whom live in Washington except one brother.

"Nellie and her husband have lived in my house since last February, and not once have they had a misunderstanding," said Mrs. Sharp. "They loved Dolly. What will the poor child do?" she said.

Police are trying to find a motive for the suicide.

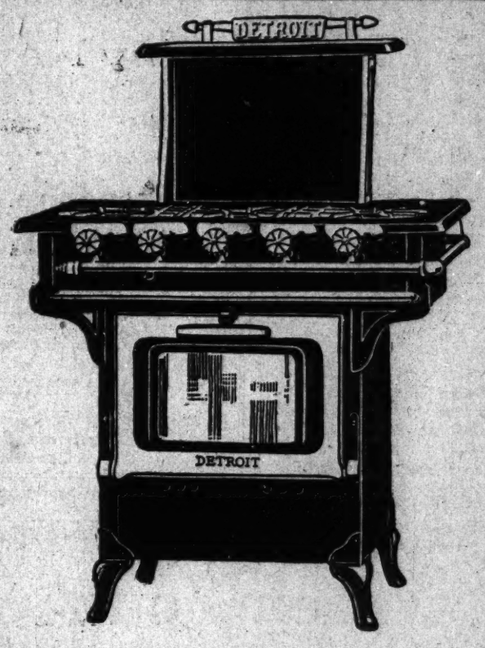
PERSHING TO GET SWORD

Bill Providing For Program Being Prepared for Introduction This Week

Gen. Pershing will be presented with a sword and the banks of Congress on his return from France. This plan has been tentatively decided upon by Republican leaders in the House, as a result of the controversy precipitated by the resolution of Representative Caldwell (Democrat, providing for a joint session of the Senate and House to welcome the commander in chief of the American Expeditionary Force.

There is known to be very serious opposition to President Wilson's recommendation that General March be made a permanent general, but it is believed that General Pershing will be given the honor without any opposition. It is claimed by some of General March's opponents on the House Military Affairs Committee that a majority of the members of that body are opposed to reporting out a bill conferring the permanent rank upon him.

Cook the Easy Way



No Wicks No Odor

A Hot Fire in a Jiffy

Oil stove cooking is the recognized hot weather method. Hot days demand the least heat possible at meal time and this is the best method.

This three-burner and oven range cooks and bakes as fast as a gas range. It is built compact, with glass oven door, drip pan under burners, large roomy cooking top and high shelf. An additional advantage is the high base which permits easy sweeping under the stove.

FRANCE SEEKS CONTROL

Trying to Form Alliance With Smaller Powers so as to Outvote Big Four

Paris, July 28.—In the role of "big brother" to small nations, France hopes to enter the Washington meeting of the league of nations in October strong enough politically, to defeat the aims of the other Big Five countries unless they accede to her demand for total disarmament of Germany.

Delegates representing the minor powers are holding daily conferences with a view to approaching Leon Bourgeois, who is expected to represent France at Washington, with a political proposition whereby they will seek to enlist the league voting power of France on their side. Prominent among the minor delegations in these informal meetings is that of Sweden.

As each of the Big Five powers has one vote in the league and the small nations combined have four votes, a voting "understanding" between France and the "little fellows" would enable France to cast five votes against the most cherished contentions of the other great nations should they refuse to disarm Germany.

SETTLE STRIKE

Praeger Agrees to Reinstate One Flier—Settles Weather Issue

Second Assistant Postmaster General Praeger reached an amicable settlement yesterday with the air mail pilots who went on a one day strike last week. At the conclusion of conferences with Pilot Charles H. Anglin, representing the pilots, the reinstatement of Pilot E. Hamilton Lee, one of the two men whose dismissal resulted in the strike, was announced.

Leon Smith, the other dismissed aviator, will not be reinstated, Mr. Praeger said. This action was said to have met with the approval of Mr. Anglin, because Smith's case presented complications which required separate action.

Under the setlement, which according to both Mr. Praeger and Mr. Anglin, precluded the possibility of further trouble, the department's order concerning flying under adverse weather conditions has been clarified so as to permit the manager of the flying field to determine whether the pilot shall take the air when his life might be endangered.

FLAGMAN KILLED

Is Run Over by Train at New Church Virginia

Cape Charles Va., July 28.—Vernon D. Nelson, 42 years old, a flagman of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad, was run over by a freight train at New Church, Va., Saturday night and sustained injuries which resulted in his death this morning in the Salisbury hospital, where he was taken for treatment.

The freight extra on which Nelson was a flagman was crossing from the northbound to the southbound track to clear for a passenger train. The trainmen had no knowledge of the accident until they heard the cries of the injured man. Cause of the accident is unknown.

Nelson resided in Crisfield, Md., He is survived by a widow and four children.

3,200 GALLONS CONFISCATED

Morgantown, W. Va., July 28.—More than 3,200 gallons of whisky, "pickhandle," and "mash" were confiscated in this county during the past week under the direction of Deputy State Prohibition Commissioner Bert Phillips.

The liquor was confiscated in large and small lots at Sabaraton Jerome Park the Bertha Mines and other small communities. In many places where intoxicating liquors were discovered large supply of raisins were found. Shipments totalling more than 1,400 crates have been located. It is said the raisins cost 17 cents a pound and are secured direct from California by the alleged moonshiners. They are used chiefly for the manufacture of "pickhandle" and have little value as food. Fifty cases of whisky were seized at one place.

Pan-German Papers Say Max Was Author of Renunciation

Berlin, July 28.—Yesterday morning's pan-German newspapers of Berlin make a feature of a five-column expose of occurrences in connection with the outbreak of the German revolution last November, including a struggle taking place at German Great Headquarters at Spa on November 9, lasting nearly 24 hours, to induce Emperor William to abdicate. Material is adduced to show that Prince Maximilian of Baden, then Imperial Chancellor finally took the initiative and gave to the Wolff Bureau an official statement that the Emperor had abdicated as Emperor and King of Prussia, although it is averred he had done neither and has never renuonced the throne of Prussia.

Prince Maximilian, it is declared, took the step out of misguided patriotism in an attempt to subdue the revolutionary movement, which was rapidly getting out of hand, and by it froced the Emperor's advisers to hurry him away to Holland. The pan-Germans now charge the former Chancellor with treachery.

All doubts as to William Hohenzollern's abdication as German Emperor and King of Prussia were considered to have been settled when Berlin advices on November 30 last told of the issuance by the new German Government of the former Emperor's act of renunciation, described as having been executed and signed by William Hohenzollern at Amerongen, Holland, on November 28. The text of the abdication as given in a Berlin dispatch began:

"By the present document I renounce forever my rights to the crown of Prussia and the rights to the German imperial crown."

"SWING AROUND THE CIRCLE."

Presient Expected to Start Tour for League August 5.

Washington, July 28.—An announcement regarding President Wilson's forthcoming trip to the Pacific Coast is expected from the White House today or tomorrow. Mr. Wilson was said to have under consideration an itinerary calling for his departure from Washington August 5. If this date finally is decided upon, the President should arrive in Los Angeles August 12, after making a few speeches in the Middle West.

Mr. Wilson is described as being anxious to start his "swing around the circle" as soon as possible. His speeches will be designed to give a clear cut analysis of the conditions he feels make the league of nations a necessity and things he hopes its adoption will accomplish. The President also probably will take occasion to answer his critics.

Extraordinary arrangements are being made to accommodate a large number of newspaper correspondon the trip, requests for permission to accompany the Chief Executive having poured into the White House from all sections of the country. From present indications, at least two score correspondents may go along.

MADE TORCH OF PRISONER

Nicaraguan Revolutionist Reported to Have Met Tragic Fate

San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, July 28.—It is reported from Costa Rican revolutionary headquarters that during the temporary occupation of La Cruz in Northwestern Costa Rica, the forces of President Tinoco captured a revolutionist named Marcelino Flamenco.

The report alleges that the revolutionist was sprinkled with petroleum and burned alive. Eye- witnesses who had been hiding near the scene gave details of the burning and said that the charred body was later found and identified.

STAMP CONVERSION IS NOW AUTHORIZED

Treasury Department Offers Through Banks and Post Offices Savings Certificates in Large Denominations.

Richmond, Va.—The War Loan Organization of the Fifth Federal Reserve District has been advised that hereafter War Savings Stamps may be converted into Treasury Savings Certificates of $100 and $1,000 denominations according to a new plan of the United States Treasury Department to afford greater convenience to holders and purchasers of War Savings and Thrift Stamps.

The development of the savings idea is one that has been urged for some time in order to attract larger investments. The holder of a sufficient number of Thrift Stamps may now exchange them for a $5 War Savings Stamp and in turn the holder of twenty of the $5 War Savings Stamps may convert them into a $100 Savings Certificate, or the holder of two hundred of the $5 stamps may in turn turn them in for a $1,000 Saving Certificate.

Conversion may be made at all first and second class postoffices and at all incorporated banks and trust companies that have qualified as agents of the second class. The Treasury Savings Certificate will be issued in registered form and will bear the name of the owners. They will yield four per cent compounded quarterly as do the War Savings Stamps. The limit of the individual investment for the 1919 series of stamps still remains at $1,000.

The new Treasury Savings Certificates should prove particularly attractive for the investment of the funds of fraternal societies, labor unions and other civic, social and religious organizations because the interest is added to the principal automatically each quarter, the entire amount being payable at maturity.

HOW FAMILY INCOME MAY BE DISTRIBUTED

Every Home Should Have Own Personal Household Budget If It is to be Successful.

Every household is a corporation with certain definite obligations and a more or less certain income, and it should, therefore, have a definite budget.

No general budget can be so framed as to fit the needs of every family. Families differ, even when identical in size, number, sex and general situation, but no family can thrive and progress without sound and sane financing; without arrangement of a reasonable financial margin; without regular saving and investments, such as are offered by Thrift and War Savings Stamps; and only intelligent adherance to an intelligent budget can be trusted, under ordinary circumstances, to bring about the desired results.

Methods of appropriation, however, differ; a method which proves feasible in a given family would be worse than useless in another; but certain cardinal principles may be safely laid down.

The amount of possible savings should be set apart definitely, and rigidly adhered to. Other allowances may be variable or they may be held within hard and fast limits. One plan after another may be tried, if liked, until the best one suited is found.

All things considered, the most easily efficient budget usually is that which allows a certain share of the income for each budget head listed, holds rigidly within the items of appropriation, and wisely applies any balance or surplus to the savings or recreation account.

WHAT REAL THRIFT WILL ACCOMPLISH

Successful Men Began By Saving Their Money As a Matter of Fixed Habit.

Abraham Lincoln was a notable exemplar of the value of thrift of time. We can picture him trudging forty miles to borrow a grammar. We can see him prone before the pine fire at night after a hard day's work logcutting, reading and re-reading the statutes of Indiana, the only book he owned, or learning to write and figure with a piece of charcoal on the back of a wooden shovel, as he had not paper or ink.

Another example of what a boy can do who does not waste time is that of a Milwaukee man, Nels Anton Christensen, recently appointed by the United States government, through Secretary of the Navy Daniels, on the inventors' staff of the new United States Naval Board, which includes the greatest inventive minds in the nation.

Born in Denmark, Nels Christensen's school days ended at 14 years. After that he worked in a machine shop days and attended a technical school in the evenings. From his savings he defrayed the expense of a course at the Copenhagen Technique Institute, from which he was graduated at 21. Previous to that he attained national prominence as an engineer, having designed, when 19 years old, the Danish lighthouse at Hanstholme, one of the largest in the world.

During the three years he spent on an English steamer engaged in Mediterranean trade he learned enough English to secure a position with an English manufacturing concern. Since coming to the United States he has invented many compressed airbrake starters for railroads, aeroplanes and fire engines that have brought him world-wide fame.

Thomas Edison began to save before he began to invent. The successful magazine editor, Edward Bok, started saving on a salary of 50 cents a week. Grover Cleveland's wages for his first year of work totaled $50. Garfield could not have become president had he not saved early in life. Horace Greeley and Cooper founded their careers on saving.

Ex-Governor Ferris of Michigan, now a college president, a life-long advocate of thrift, tells of his own thrifty training: "In my youth if I had a toy, I made it, and made it not to suit myself alone but it had to suit my father as well. His examination of my work and his insistence that I should put the best there was in me even into my toys put into my back a spine and sufficient lime to last a lifetime."

Thrift was the keynote of success in the life of the late James J. Hill. He was one of the country's most consistent exponents of thrift, one of the greatest examplars of what this virtue combined with energy and high purpose, can do. He preached always that the man who cannot save money will be a failure; that though he may have education, talent and ability, without thrifty habits he cannot succeed.

The hen that lays an egg a day is a gold mine for her owner. Take a lesson from the hen! Lay up for your future by investing regularly in War Savings Stamps.

The cornerstone of tomorrow's success is founded upon today's thrift. Any postman can lay the cornerstone for you with War Savings Stamps.

Some one is saving what you spend foolishly. Who is depositing your dollars? Invest them in W. S. S. and save them for yourself.

FLEET ENTERS CANAL

Colon Crowds Greet Warships; Will Anchor in Gatun Lake

Colon, July 26.—The newly created Pacific fleet of the United States navy steamed into Colon at dawn yesterday morning, and this afternoon the warships, after taking on oil and coal, were to go through Gatun locks, the first stage in the Panama Canal journey from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Airplanes escorted the fleet into the harbor, where great crowds lined the shores for a sight of the dreadnaughts, the first that ever visited the canal.

The fleet movement so far has proceeded without a hitch. The battleships Georgia and Vermont joined the fleet here today.

KILLS TWO; ENDS OWN LIFE

New York, July 28.—Driven insane by continued brooding over a feud with a fellow employe, John D. Rogers, a watchman, employed in the San Remo Hotel, Central Park West, early yesterday shot and killed John McGoldrick, a porter in the hotel, with whom he had quarreled. Shortly afterward he killed Detective James Maher, who had been sent to arest him, and then fired a bullet into his own brain when cornered by pursuers.

A brilliant and powerful adaptation of Elinor Glyn's famous novel, "The Career of Katherine Bush," with that beautiful emotional actress, Catherine Calvert, in the leading role, is the photodramatic triumph selected for presentation at the Richmond Theater today. Elinor Glyn, author of "The Career of Katherine Bush," is also the author of "Three Weeks," one of the most internationally sensational stories ever printed. "The Career of Katherine Bush," second only in literary importance to the first named novel, also manifests the finished skill and exceptionally vivid story telling power of its author.

"The Career of Katherine Bush," depicts the rise of a woman of obscure birth to a position of great prominence and power in British society through her ability to sway powerful men by her beauty and charm. It is a story of a woman's relentless ambition to triumph over an accident of birth and gain the heights of success. The romantic element is highly emphasized in this story, but it is not until fame and triumph have been won that Katherine Bush consented to accept love.

Catherine Calvert, cast in the stellar role, is one of the great emotional actresses of the screen, and her performance is fully up to the requirements of the part.

The usual subsidiary pictures complete the program.

INGOMAR THEATRE

At the Ingomar Theatre tonight Chapter 13 of "The Tiger's Trail" and "Love in a Hurry," will be shown.

GRAND THEATRE

Don't fail to see the exciting end of the great drama "Man of Might" Also Charles Ray, the popular Thos. H. Ince star, who will be seen at the Grand Theatre tonight in a new Paramount photoplay, "His Mother's Boy."

Ray, who is one of the best liked of screen luminaries, is afforded many opportunities in this picture to further increase the number of his admirers. He seems to occupy a peculiar niche in the motion picture hall of fame—a place that apparently is not shared with any of his contemporaries. Ray has been before the public for several years—always under the direction of Thomas H. Ince—and, though starred in a wide range of roles, has never failed to contribute a notably fine screen performance.
